

Wider Curriculum Trevor Davies briefing

Thursday 6th June 2019, 1:00pm – 4:00pm, Beaumanor Hall, Woodhouse Eaves

Following a successful session in March, we're pleased to announce we've arranged for Trevor to lead another session for us.

Who should attend?

This course is suitable for Headteachers and senior leaders with curriculum responsibilities.

Focus of the session

- Help schools to prepare for Wider Curriculum expectations in the New Ofsted Framework from September
- Focus on skills and knowledge progression
- Developing Cultural Capital within the wider curriculum
- Curriculum design, planning and assessment models

Trevor will tell you everything you need to know about current changes and will provide delegates with a bank of fabulous resources that can be taken back to school to implement straight away.

Date for your Diary

There will be a follow on session taking place on Thursday 10th October, 1:00pm – 4:00pm

About the Host

Trevor Davies has had an outstanding track record as a headteacher of both primary and secondary schools.

He has extensive Inspection experience, enhanced through his exceptional knowledge of curriculum development.

He was Head of Prospects School Improvement Division for eight years, supporting Headteachers, schools, local authorities and MATs nationally. He now works freelance in a similar role

Trevor works with a wide range of schools and local authorities and has a clear perspective of the opportunities as well as the challenges facing Headteachers in the next year.

Feedback from the last session

Here's some of the great feedback from the last session:

"The best thing about this network was having lots of practical ideas to take away that can be adapted to suit our needs"

"The best thing about this network was the amount of good quality resources"
